

Four Questions Through the Lens of Food Justice

Why do we eat much on this night and others eat little?

Why do we eat the unleavened bread and throw our leavened bread away instead of donating it to the food pantry?

Why do we dip our food into sauce and salt and charoset while others may not even have a crumb to dip?

Why do we lay back, relax and eat the food that comes to us so easily while others work to buy bread for their family?
