

Why should I follow these traditions if they do not connect to me?

Contributed by danielle sharf

Source:

Whats the point of sitting at a table for two hours re-reading the same story every year? To follow traditions that are not relevant to our society today. Yet I still sit there every year, silent. Waiting for the only part I can connect to... the eating.