

The Journey Song

Contributed by Rabbi Amy Joy Small

Source: Debbie Friedman

Song: The Journey Song

Music by Debbie Friedman

Lyrics by Debbie Friedman and Tamara Ruth Cohen

Where does the journey begin

Where will we go?

Hours pass the answers can change

As we keep moving along.

Stand at the shores of the sea

Fearful we want to turn back.

The sea parts our eyes fill with wonder

As we go along on our journey.

Where does the journey begin

Where will we go

Days pass the answers might change

As we keep moving along.

Stepping into the unknown

Hear the echoes of Miriam's song

We awaken, retelling our stories

As we go along in our journey.

Where does the journey begin

Where will we go

Years pass the answers have changed

As we keep moving along.

Cross the sea it's the time

To sing a song we are free

Dance with your timbrels in hand

There's no turning back from this journey.

(repeat first verse)

Days pass the answers might change

As we keep moving along

Years pass the answers have changed

As we keep moving along.