

Forward

Contributed by Jonathan Brown Gilbert

Source:

The Haggadah tells us:

In every generation one is obliged to see herself/himself as though s/he had actually gone forth from Egypt.

The Seder gives us an opportunity to remind ourselves to keep alive our love for freedom. Freedom must never be taken for granted. Every generation is required to advance the cause of freedom and human dignity.

Together:

We shall not oppress the stranger for we know the feeling of the stranger, having ourselves been strangers in the land of Egypt