SH'CHIN שְׁחִין

BOILS burst from their skin. They were so uncomfortable! The Egyptians could not even get dressed without screaming from the pain.

BARAD בָּרָד

HAIL rained down as dangerous balls of ice. The hail smashed roofs and damaged crops. It broke everything the Egyptians owned.

ARBEH אֲרֵבָה

LOCUSTS swarmed over all the trees and blades of grass. The buzzing and sound of flapping wings frightened everyone. Vegetables and fruits were gobbled up and only dust remained on the ground.

CHOSHECH חֹשֶׁךְ

DARKNESS blotted out the sun. People were always cold. Moonlight and stars did not appear. Every day was pitch black.

MAKAT B'CHOROT מַכַּת בְּכוֹרוֹת

The first-born son in every Egyptian family DIED.
