

Even more questions...

Contributed by Jessica Belding

Source: image from Margaret Hobart

Free people
ask questions

Take a piece of paper and write a question you have about Passover. It can be a question about other people's memories or experiences, about the traditions of the holiday, or related to any theme you sense in the holiday. You are free to interject with them at any point, but we will take all these questions and pull them out during dinner.