We will now enjoy the festive meal. As you eat, remember that we came here to share, learn, and bond. Take the opportunity to discuss what we have done so far and feel free to ask questions. Approach anyone; no one here is a stranger.

Please consider sharing with others some of the following: your favorite holiday and family traditions, the meaning of liberation in your tradition and in your lives, what gives you hope, and what your big dreams are for yourself and the world.

We will continue with the Seder after the meal!
