

Yarzeit/Veladora for all those still in Bondage

Contributed by Mirit Markowitz

Source:

Tonight with the traditional candles we also light a Veladora with the Virgen De Guadalupe, who is the protector of all Mexican People and all of Latino America. Similar to a Yarzeit candle, a candle of remembrance, people all over Mexico light veladora's in their home with prayers for those in struggle, those lost, and those in need of protection. Tonight we also light a veladora for all those who still are in the bondages of modern slavery and are yet to break free and for all of us who are facing our own mitsrayim.