

For More Information

Contributed by No More Deaths/No Más Muertes

Source:

This Haggadah represents the efforts of No More Deaths / No Más Muertes members who saw a relationship between work in the Borderlands and Jewish heritage. We hope you have enjoyed using this Haggadah, and encourage you to continue thinking about your experiences with migration through a local lens. There is not a town or city untouched by the border crisis in the United States: get involved with Sanctuary efforts in your hometown, lobby for legislation designed to protect undocumented people, and have conversations with your friends, family, and neighbors about governmental efforts to further militarize the border regions.

If you are interested in the work No More Deaths / No Más Muertes does, please visit our website at nomoredeaths.org. You can reach our Media team at media@nomoredeaths.org.

Special thanks to Julian Cranberg for graciously sharing excerpts from his Haggadah for the Borderlands, written while volunteering for No More Deaths / No Más Muertes in 2016. If you are interested in his full-length Haggadah, you can contact the No More Deaths / No Más Muertes Media team.