

Let Them Go, Let Them Go, Let Them Go (Tune - Let it Snow)

Contributed by Tami Stalbow

Source:

Well, the bondage of Pharaoh was frightful

And the please of Moses were rightful

But since God sent plagues you know

Let them go, let them go, let them go

Oh, they didn't have time for baking

So instead it's Matzah their making

And since God sent plagues you know,

Let them go, let them go let them go

When they finally said goodnight

Marking blood so to save their first born

And soon they will need to take fight

As they rise up in the morn.

There's soon to be no more crying

As they leave from Pharaoh's lying.

Yet since God sent plagues, you know,

Let them go, let them go, let them go.
