Remote Passover
Contributed by Ben Zimmerman
Source:

Before we begin, let’s cover a few basics that everyone should know.

Due to this Seder being conducted via Zoom, it will naturally be a bit more awkward than if we were together in person. That being said, we may actually gain some richness by being so distributed - one benefit of this obstacle is that we now have an explicit need for a Seder Administrator. The Seder Admin will be responsible for handling any potential issue related to Zoom - muting & unmuting people, setting the order of who speaks, and calling on people who have raised their hands to ask a question.

So here’s how this is going to work: we will all take turns reading from this book, the Hagaddah. Read for as long as you feel is appropriate, and then pass to the next person you’re physically next to. The Seder Admin will help organize which group of people speaks next. If you have a question or a comment at any point throughout the seder, raise your hand and the Seder Admin will make sure you get unmuted and can contribute.

For those of you reading along in the Hagaddah, anything in Bold is a question for anyone to chime in on.

Anything in Italics is something for us all to read together.

Anything with Green Highlights is an action for us all to take

For blessings in hebrew, Ben will take the lead.

It may be the case that some of you are unfamiliar with Zoom, so let’s cover the basic functionality:

-Muting and unmuting yourself - everyone will be auto-muted unless you’re speaking

-Turning on or off your video - please keep your video on as much as possible! Also, make sure your camera is set up to include everyone you’re with.

-Chat functionality - chat with the Seder Admin if you need technical assistance - here’s how

-Raising your hand - here’s how.